Kim Wolf Price serves as the Director of Externship programs at Syracuse University College of Law. She has primary responsibility over the coursework and placements around central NY and developed the NYC externship program where students spend a full semester working at legal placements in the NYC metro area. In addition, she is the faculty advisor to pro bono initiatives. She received a Bachelor's degree from Colgate University, and Juris Doctor, magna cum laude, from Syracuse University College of Law. While in attendance at the College of Law, Ms. Wolf Price was the Notes and Comments Editor of the Syracuse Law Review and a member of both the Justinian Honorary Law Society and Order of the Coif. Upon graduation from law school, Ms. Wolf Price joined the New York City office of Clifford Chance US LLP as an associate where she gained experience in securities litigation and white collar criminal defense. She is currently of counsel at the Bottar Law Firm.

She is admitted to the New York State Bar. Her professional associations include the New York State Bar Association, where she is co-chair of the Women on the Move committee for the Women in the Law Section. She also sits on the Diversity & Inclusion Committee for NYSBA, where she will chair the Youth Law Day sub-committee. She is also a member of the American Bar Association, New York State Women's Bar Association, and the Onondaga County Women's Bar Association.
