Markley S. Roderick concentrates his practice on the representation of entrepreneurs and their businesses. He represents companies across a wide range of industries, including technology, real estate, and healthcare.

Expanding on his in-depth knowledge of capital raising and securities law, Mr. Roderick is spearheading Flaster Greenberg's Crowdfunding Practice. He also is a member of the firm's Mergers and Acquisitions, Business and Corporate, Taxation and Healthcare Groups.

Mr. Roderick has more than 25 years of experience representing individuals and businesses in a wide variety of transactions, including:

- Counseling entrepreneurs through the formation, development, and growth of their businesses
- Raising money through private placements, venture capital and Crowdfunding
- Buying, selling, and investing in businesses
- Planning business transactions to minimize corporate and individual taxes
- Preparing Shareholders' Agreements, Partnership Agreement, and Operating Agreements
- Resolving disputes among partners
- Representing franchisors and franchisees
- Navigating healthcare laws and regulations, including the Stark statute, the Federal anti-kickback statute, and New Jersey's Codey statute
- Representing healthcare providers before licensing boards
- Creating multidisciplinary practices among healthcare providers

- Protecting business goodwill through restrictive covenant (non-compete) agreements
- Compensating key employees using options and restricted stock
- Technology licensing and development

Mr. Roderick writes and lectures frequently for professional groups. Recent lectures have covered raising money from investors, franchising laws, and business contracts. He also maintains a Crowdfunding blog, which contains news, updates and links to important information pertaining to the JOBS Act and how Crowdfunding may affect your business.
