Bruce Gyory is a senior advisor in the government and regulatory practice in the firm's Albany office. He has over 28 years of experience working as an attorney, and has served three Governors of New York, two as a senior advisor. Bruce provides his clients with assistance in managing the political, media and communications challenges facing institutions and businesses in today's marketplace.

Prior to joining Manatt, Bruce served as a strategic consultant for Corning Place Communications, where he advised on a variety of political and communications challenges.

Bruce is an Adjunct Professor of Political Science at the University of Albany, focusing on national and state voting trends. He has extensive experience in the fields of higher education and healthcare, and with academic health centers.
