

High-Stakes Issues in Antitrust Litigation

Allegations of harm to competition often give rise to complex litigation and regulatory inquiries. To address the high-stakes issues in these matters—including emerging issues such as scrutiny of large tech platforms, no poach agreements, and “killer” acquisitions—experience is crucial. Cornerstone Research staff and experts bring deep expertise, insightful approaches, and advanced data analytics capabilities to every matter.

