Diversity Internship Program Goals

To increase the representation of lawyers and students from a diverse range of backgrounds in corporate legal departments, and to provide students from a diverse range of backgrounds with an opportunity to experience in-house legal practice. The ultimate goal of the Kenneth G. Standard Diversity Internship Program (“the Program”) is to create a network and forge relationships which will foster greater diversity in corporate legal departments throughout New York State. Through the Program student interns will be provided a meaningful and appropriately supervised work experience by host companies working in partnership with the NYSBA Corporate Counsel Section’s Diversity Internship Committee (the “Internship Committee”).

Eligible Candidates

Students must be in the class of 2023 or 2024 from under-represented groups attending a participating law school and capable of fulfilling the requested work hours and responsibilities. A minimum GPA of 2.5, a cover letter explaining (i) your interest and qualifications; and (ii) a discussion about your personal commitment to diversity in the legal field and how being from an under-represented group has impacted you, along with a writing sample (no longer than 10 pages) will be required upon application. All application must be submitted in one single pdf.

The ideal candidate is a motivated, organized and reliable law student with an interest in digital rights and data privacy law. Demonstrated research and writing skills are essential. Fluency in a foreign language is not required but helpful. An affinity for contracts, risk/compliance, and international legal work is a plus.

Host Company:

Access Now

Deadline: March 11, 2022

Access Now is an international human rights organization (registered in the US as a s.501(c)(3) not-for-profit) dedicated to defending and extending the digital rights of users at risk around the world, advocating for privacy, security, freedom of expression, and transparency. By combining technical support, policy engagement, global advocacy, grantmaking, legal interventions, and RightsCon convenings (the world's leading summit on human rights in the digital age), we fight for human rights in the digital age. Our policy, advocacy, legal, technology, grants, and operations teams are present in Africa, Europe, Latin America, the Middle East/North Africa, the Americas, and Asia, to provide global support to our mission.

Access Now's legal internship program is a great opportunity for a law student looking to gain experience in the work of in-house counsel, including contracting, international business and sanctions law, employment law, legal risk management, data protection, compliance, and intellectual property. Working with outside counsel, and engaging in strategic legal advising, the Legal Intern will sit within the legal team, while also being exposed to work on net neutrality, data rights, privacy, freedom of expression, digital security, cybersecurity, and human rights led by other arms of the organization. We ensure that law students are always provided the opportunity to participate in our organization's wide array of initiatives and programs.

Intern's Responsibilities

The Legal Intern can expect the following responsibilities, tasks, and experiences:

- Gain specialized knowledge in human rights, data privacy, and technology.
- Draft legal documents for use by our Grants, Operations, and RightsCon (the world's leading summit on human rights in the digital age) teams.
- Research and evaluate different legal risk factors relating to the organization's global operations and compliance.
- Assist in drafting and review of key contractual documents, including employment/labor, non-disclosure and confidentiality, and operational agreements.
- Research, write, and edit briefs, publications, and blog posts (with your name on them!).

Location

Our U.S. headquarters is located in New York City. Due to the ongoing pandemic, internship may be remote.
