NEW YORK STATE BAR ASSOCIATION INTERNATIONAL SECTION

Who are we?

New York State Bar Association and the International Section

The New York State Bar Association (NYSBA) is the largest voluntary state bar organization in the United States. NYSBA's International Section has over 1,500 members and chapters in more than 70 countries around the world. The International Section brings members together to learn from one another, advocate for the rule of law, and contribute to the development of a truly international legal community.

What is the Global Conference?

Each year, NYSBA's International Section hosts a conference in a different city outside of the United States to provide American and foreign colleagues the opportunity to meet, network, and expand their international practices. Our most recent conferences have been held in Mexico City, London, New York City, Tokyo, Montréal, Antigua, Guatemala, Paris, São Paulo, Vienna, Hanoi, Lisbon, Panama, Sydney, and the list goes on!

This year, the conference will consist of three days of Continuing Legal Education (CLE) panels and plenaries, including various hot topics in international law. The meeting also offers networking opportunities in the form of extended breaks, luncheons, receptions, dinners, including our traditional gala dinner, and social and cultural events.

However, there is a growing anti-ESG backlash, particularly in some parts of the United States. Some believe that Europe stands firm against the US-driven ESG backlash, while others think that the anti-ESG sentiment is not just an American phenomenon, as Europe is also watering down its sustainability agenda. PANEL 16 _____ The Principle of Territoriality and Cross-Border Infringement of Intellectual Property Rights: A Comparison of the Approaches in Japan, South Korea, Thailand and the U.S. Generally, the principle of territoriality is applicable in the intellectual property law realm, meaning that intellectual property rights granted in a specific country are only effective within that country and that such rights do not extend outside such country's borders. However, as the number of international transactions involving intellectual property rights increase, especially with the provision of goods and services via the internet in ways previously unimaginable, the boundaries of the areas where intellectual property rights granted in a particular country are effective have expanded and become ambiguous. This panel aims to provide practical insights on cross-border intellectual property right infringement cases by comparing the approaches of different countries to territoriality and examining recent trends in each country.	PANEL 17 _____ What to Do When Your Company or Your Client is Hacked This session will focus on the data security threat landscape in the Asia-Pacific region; the legal risks and obligations that arise in the event of a data breach involving multijurisdictional data; and best practices for an effective response. With our recent cases that involved clients' being hacked and protection of data privacy being more complicated, we wish to discuss some real challenges clients have faced and how they have resolved them. Chair: Tony Andriotis, DLA Piper, Tokyo, Japan Panelists: Timothy Dickens, DR & AJU LLC, Seoul, Korea John Leitner, SentiLink Corp., San Francisco, CA, U.S.A. 1.0 CLE Credit in Cybersecurity, Privacy and Data Protection – General	PANEL 18 _____ Harnessing Economic Incentives for Cross-Border Investments Businesses that invest in the United States can qualify for an impressive range of economic incentives that federal, state, and local governments in the United States offer. These incentives can significantly reduce investment costs, financing costs, and operating costs. Businesses investing in the U.S. from abroad frequently qualify for cash grants, tax abatements and tax credits, tax exemptions, infrastructure spending, land, favorable rules for write-down, utility rate incentives, and job training. Our panelists have secured incentives for dozens of projects, including those that exceeded $1 billion in investment. Brave New World: New Frontiers in Regulations of Crypto

It has been said that the world of cryptocurrency is a rapid distillation in less than a decade of lessons learned by the larger financial sector over a century. Unregulated, recent disturbances in the world of crypto – the so-called crypto winter – have drawn attention both to the lack of established norms and have inspired calls for greater regulation. This panel will address recent developments in the world of crypto. A panel of international regulators and others will discuss respective regulatory approaches and explore (1) if and how regulations on the matter can stabilize the market; (2) what those potential regulations might look like; and (3) how the exchanges, intermediaries and other participants can implement anti money laundering (AML) and related procedures to avoid the misuse of the market for illicit activities.

Speakers:

Commissioner Hester Peirce, U.S. Securities and Exchange Commission, U.S.A.
(virtual appearance)

Moderators:

Howard A. Fischer, Moses & Singer LLP, New York, NY, U.S.A.
