

2025 Diversity, Equity & Inclusion Fellowship

The Fellowship

- > $10,000 stipend to spend the summer of 2025 (8 weeks minimum) working in an unpaid position on legal matters for an environmental or energy governmental agency or public interest organization in New York State. (The applicant need not have identified a summer internship prior to applying for the fellowship. After a 2024 fellowship awardee has been selected, members of the Section can assist the awardee in searching for a summer internship placement.)
- > Invitation to attend event celebrating the Fellowship and individual Fellows during during annual meeting of the Environmental & Energy Law Section
- > Publication of awardee's summary of their internship and Fellowship experience in the Environmental & Energy Law Section publication The Environmental Lawyer
- > Pairing with mentor from the environmental or energy bar

Fellowship Eligibility Criteria

First-year, second-year, and third-year (night students only) students who identify as members of disproportionately less represented groups in the legal profession who: 1) are enrolled in a law school in New York State; or 2) are permanent New York State residents, and enrolled in a law school in the United States; and 3) will not graduate from law school before December 2025. Disproportionately less represented groups in the legal profession include historically marginalized communities, minority racial and ethnic groups, first-generation college graduates, persons with disabilities, and those who identify with marginalized sexual orientation and gender identities.

Applicants should have a demonstrated interest in environmental and/or energy issues, and a strong academic record (undergraduate and/or law school). (A law school course in environmental or energy law is not a prerequisite.)

All applicants must be a member of NYSBA and the Environmental & Energy Law Section. Membership is free for law students.
