2024 Seoul Global Conference

Who are we?

New York State Bar Association and the International Section

The New York State Bar Association (NYSBA) is the largest voluntary state bar organization in the United States. NYSBA's International Section has over 1,500 members and chapters in more than 70 countries around the world. The International Section brings members together to learn from one another, advocate for the rule of law, and contribute to the development of a truly international legal community.

What is the Global Conference?

Each year, NYSBA's International Section hosts a conference in a different city outside of the United States to provide American and foreign colleagues the opportunity to meet, network, and expand their international practices. Our most recent conferences have been held in Mexico City, London, New York City, Tokyo, Montréal, Antigua, Guatemala, Paris, São Paulo, Vienna, Hanoi, Lisbon, Panama, Sydney, and the list goes on! This year, the conference will consist of three days of Continuing Legal Education (CLE) panels and plenaries, including, various hot topics in international law. The meeting also offers networking opportunities in the form of extended breaks, luncheons, receptions, dinners, including our traditional gala dinner, and social and cultural events.

Track 1	Track 2	Track 3
PANEL 16   Room 615 (6th floor) The Principle of Territoriality and Cross-Border Infringement of Intellectual Property Rights: A Comparison of the Approaches in Japan, South Korea, Thailand and the U.S. Generally, the principle of territoriality is applicable in the intellectual property law realm, meaning that intellectual property rights granted in a specific country are only effective within that country and that such rights do not extend outside such country's borders. However, as the number of international transactions involving intellectual property rights increase, especially with the provision of goods and services via the internet in ways previously unimaginable, the boundaries of the areas where intellectual property rights granted in a particular country are effective have expanded and become ambiguous. This panel aims to provide practical insights on cross-border intellectual property right infringement cases by comparing the approaches of different countries to territoriality and examining recent trends in each country. Chair: Tomohiro Kuribayashi, TMI Associates, Tokyo, Japan Panelists: Dong Yoon Chae, Kim &amp; Chang, Seoul, Korea Hiroshi Nemoto, TMI Associates, Tokyo, Japan Scott Schrader, Covington &amp; Burling LLP, Seoul, Korea Suebsiri Taweepon, Tilleke &amp; Gibbins, Thailand 1.0 CLE Credit in Areas of Professional Practice	PANEL 17   Room 613 (6th floor) What to Do When Your Company or Your Client is Hacked This session will focus on the data security threat landscape in the Asia-Pacific region; the legal risks and obligations that arise in the event of a data breach involving multijurisdictional data; and best practices for an effective response. With our recent cases that involved clients' being hacked and protection of data privacy being more complicated, we wish to discuss some real challenges clients have faced and how they have resolved them. Moderator: Timothy Dickens, DR &amp; AJU LLC, Seoul, Korea Panelists: James J. 1:30 p.m. - 3:00 p.m. PLENARY 2 | Big Conference Room, 6th Floor
Weathering the Storm of IP Litigation and Trade War
(Sponsored by The Law Times, 법률신문)

This plenary will discuss two important issues Asian companies are encountering in connection with their U.S. business: (1) patent infringement litigation and (2) trade disputes with the U.S. For instance, according to The Law Times's recent review of the dockets of federal courts located in Texas, the number of patent infringement actions brought against Korean major companies for the past 20 years is significantly more than patent infringement actions filed against U.S. big six tech companies. In addition, because of the on-going economic tension between the U.S. and China, many Asian companies are concerned about possible effects of another trade war between the two countries on their U.S. business after the upcoming presidential election in the U.S. In this plenary, two distinguished practitioners will discuss how companies can prepare and respond to these challenges. There will also be roundtable discussion among judges and practitioners on the issues and the panelists as well as the discussion participants will respond to comments and questions from inhouse counsel of Korean major companies.

South Korea, Japan, the United States, the European Union and Canada have all tried to spur the development of the battery industry and secure the supply chain: some by attracting foreign direct investments in their own region and some by encouraging their own manufacturers to invest in this sector. Why doing so? How are they doing now? What works and what did not work?

Our panelists will tell you how the industry has responded to their governmental initiatives and what the legal considerations and challenges for these companies when investing in the development of the battery industry have been.

AGENDA

9:00 a.m. - 10:30 a.m.

PLENARY 3 | Big Conference Room, 6th Floor

Brave New World: New Frontiers in Regulations of Crypto

It has been said that the world of cryptocurrency is a rapid distillation in less than a decade of lessons learned by the larger financial sector over a century. Unregulated, recent disturbances in the world of crypto – the so-called crypto winter – have drawn attention both to the lack of established norms and have inspired calls for greater regulation. This panel will address recent developments in the world of crypto. A panel of international regulators and others will discuss respective regulatory approaches and explore (1) if and how regulations on the matter can stabilize the market; (2) what those potential regulations might look like; and (3) how the exchanges, intermediaries and other participants can implement anti money laundering (AML) and related procedures to avoid the misuse of the market for illicit activities.

Speaker:

Panels 31 to 33

Track 1

PANEL 31 | Room 615 (6th floor)

Report and Recommendations of the NYSBA Task Force on Emerging Digital Finance and Currency

The impact of emerging technologies such as digital currencies and assets, blockchain and Web3 on the criminal justice system is vast. While such technologies have introduced new tools to facilitate crime including fraud, money laundering and schemes to defraud, they also provide technology that can be used to improve access to justice, the criminal justice system and the courts. These technologies provide new means for accessing and tracking information about cases and individuals and investigating cases. In introducing the recent report and recommendation of NYSBA's task force on emerging digital finance and currency, this panel will focus on illegal uses of the technologies and recent developments in crypto fraud by criminal enterprises and then discuss how governments and regulators of both the US and Korea have been responding to the escalating use of blockchain crime to ensure the integrity and security of the digital economy.
