

New York State Bar Association
Real Property Law Section (RPLS)

LEADERSHIP ACADEMY APPLICATION

The RPLS Leadership Academy is designed to identify, inspire, and empower the next generation of leaders within our Section and Committees. The Academy will not only teach essential leadership skills but will also create pathways for deeper engagement and long-term involvement in Section activities. New and mid-career attorneys are invited to apply. There is no application fee or registration fee for Academy participants. Past Section and past Committee membership is not a requirement for acceptance.

The Academy will focus on developing strong communication skills, emotional intelligence, and executive presence, essential traits for effective leadership. In addition to outside, professional speakers, Academy participants will engage directly with Section and Committee leadership, forging relationships that will help you navigate and thrive within our organizational structure.

The Leadership Academy represents more than a new program—it is a commitment to our collective future. By investing in our members' growth, we strengthen our Section's voice, expand our reach, and ensure that the next generation of real property law professionals is prepared to lead with skill, empathy, and purpose.

*In person attendance at both Parts of the Academy is strongly encouraged.
Discounted hotel rooms will available.*
